KENTUCKY ALFALFA AND STORED FORAGE CONTEST

Kentucky produced hay that is not for sale and has an analysis report from a certified lab, can be entered into the Kentucky Alfalfa & Stored Forage Conference Hay Contest. Please email the report(s) along with this form. Required - Baled Date: _____ This determines contest month.

KENTUCKY ALFALFA & STORED FORAGE CONFERENCE CONTEST

The Alfalfa & Stored Forage contest is held during the Alfalfa & Stored Forage Conference. The Kentucky Department of Agriculture Forage Marketing Program along with the Kentucky Forage and Grasslands Council hand out certificates to the forage participants that have the Best Alfalfa and the Best Alfalfa/Grass Mix hay. The harvest months include April, May, June, July, August, September, October and November of the previous harvest year.

Requirements & Criteria

- A Kentucky producer that produces their own Kentucky hay and has it tested through a certified lab.
The analysis report must be submitted to Kimberly Field at the Kentucky Department of Agriculture by December 31st.
Purchased hay is not eligible.
The two divisions are Alfalfa Hay and Alfalfa/Grass Mix.
There is no fee to enter into the contest.
The baled date determines the category month.
Added together, the highest Crude Protein and Relative Feed Value determines the winner.
The winner of each category will receive a certificate along with a complimentary registration to the Alfalfa & Stored Forage Conference and featured on the Kentucky Forage and Grasslands Website.

The Kentucky Alfalfa & Stored Forage Conference is held in February. https://kfgc.org/

USDA KENTUCKY MONTHLY DIRECT HAY MARKET REPORT

The Kentucky Department of Agriculture gathers monthly hay sales data for submission to the USDA for a new Kentucky Monthly Direct Hay Market Report. On the USDA Hay Reports website, you'll find a listing of all current U.S. Hay Market Reports. Scroll down to the alphabetic listing of Direct Hay Reports and look for Kentucky Monthly Direct Hay Market Report.

We are seeking additional input for the monthly hay market report. Anyone who sells or buys hay on a regular basis is encouraged to contact Kimberly Field at kimberly.field@ky.gov or 502-782-9210 to participate in our monthly survey.
